Are you a:

Home gardener?

Landowner?

Producer?

“Wanna-be” farmer?

To help meet a growing demand for locally produced food, we are looking to bring Osceola County residents together to expand local food production. Our goals:

- Help potential food producers -from backyards to farmyards- understand opportunities for selling food locally
- Form a network of local growers and potential growers
- Link landowners and potential growers
- Increase opportunities for Osceola County citizens to access locally grown food
- Investigate community gardening possibilities

Forum will be held at:
